Grand Jury Indictment May be Returned Today

BY DON KLOTZBUECHER and FRED C. WEIGEL

Palm Springs this week is recovering from shock, and is looking forward to justice. The shock of hearing of the brutal murder of Donald E. "Dutch" Graham is passing, anger and hatred toward the perpetrators of the crime is disappearing, and demands of justice are ringing out.

The first part of justice was fast, with the accused murderers, Robert and Michael Elizabeth Miers, being captured in Kingman, Arizona, within 26 hours after a warrant was issued here for their arrest.

The second part of the justice is going to be expedited too, with the Riverside county Grand Jury scheduled to meet in Riverside today to decide whether to indict the pair.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY William Mackay requested this action, to speed up the procedure of trial, following their pleas of not guilty at arraignment Tuesday.

The charge against both the man and wife is murder in the first degree, according to Mackay, who said that robbery which results in death is first degree murder.

A coroner's jury Tuesday concurred in the same verdict, saying that Donald E. Graham, chief building inspector for the City of Palm Springs "died from injuries received from blows inflicted by Mr. Robert Kenneth Miers, in the presence of Mrs. Michael Elizabeth Miers, during the perpetration of robbery."

ACTUAL CAUSE of death, according to Deputy Coroner Robert Drake was asphyxiation due to traumatic beating. Bleeding caused by internal injuries to the head and abdomen prevented Graham from breathing.

Time of death was between 1:15 and 3 a.m., Friday. Graham's body remained in a prone position on the kitchen floor, face down, arms tied behind his back, until discovered by Officer T. M. Aitken about 3:45 p.m.

And then the manhunt was on.

POLICE HAD GONE to the Graham home at 717 Sunny Dunes road to meet with Jack Sanders, senior building inspector, to check why Graham had not reported for work that morning. An early indication of possible trouble had come from Banning with the report that Graham's wallet had been found on the roadway near the east limits of that city.

Graham's car was missing from his house, (leading to the impression that he was gone), but the porch and garage lights were on, and the front door was ajar (which belied the earlier theory).

ATITKEN AND SANDERS walked into the yard where the small home was located in the rear of the lot.

They walked through the yard, past the garage, to the small house. Pushing open the front door, they walked into the house.

Graham Story Told Nation from Sun News Desk

Thousands of words forming the editorial content of a story of one of the most vicious crimes in the history of Palm Springs police annals poured over the news desks of The Desert Sun during the week, informing news agencies of the violent death of Donald E. (Dutch) Graham, city building official.

Acting as a chief news source in the resort community, the offices of The Desert Sun became a beehive of activity for the forty-eight hours following discovery of the crime which was to blaze in headlines across front pages of the nation's press.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON. A warm desert day, and many Villagers were planning weekend trips. The office of this newspaper was undergoing conversion to a daily. Orderly turmoil prevailed.

The smaller press used for several years, but now inadequate had just been moved out. A new, high-speed large press was being installed. But despite the fact that the composing room was a jumble of machinery, the staff remained on the job.

REPORTER Don Klotzbuecher reached for a ringing telephone. He listened carefully.

"BUTCH GRAHAM WAS JUST FOUND, HANDS AND ARMS BOUND IN TORN SHEET, DEAD IN THE KITCHEN OF HIS HOME AT 717 SUNNY DUNES ROAD."

The phone was cradled.

TWENTY-NINTH YEAR

Traffic Laws in Full Force Again Today

Summer Holiday on Meters Ended Says Police Chief

Full scale operation of parking meters throughout Palm Springs will go into effect this morning, Chief of Police A. G. Kettmann said.

Meter heads, removed and cleaned and repaired during the Summer months by Technician William Lish have been replaced and more than 600 meters will be back in service today.

DURING THE SUMMER months parking meters were in operation only on Palm Canyon drive between Alejo and Arenas roads and on Tahquitz drive, Andreas and Amado roads between Palm Canyon and drive and Indian Avenue.

Starting today every meter will be awaiting motorists pennies and nickels.

Chief Kettmann added also that full-force traffic control will be effective over the coming Labor Day weekend. The traffic squad, headed by Sgt. Robert Young will have a three-wheeler and two two-wheeler motorcycles on patrol to supplement squad cars.

THE SAME POLICY of traffic courtesy will be followed with greater enforcement of regulations to avoid a recurrence of serious accidents, three of which resulted in fatalities during the first quarter of 1955," the chief said.

"I hope that Villagers will be co-operative in observance of traffic regulations and that citations may be held to a minimum," Kettmann added. "But while Palm Springs is still affectionately termed the Village, it's traffic situation is that of a city. I'd like to see all Villagers remember that. Let's keep on being casual in our comfortable attire and our way of life but let's also be cautious and courteous on the streets."

Contributions may be mailed to Fred Ingram, Bank of America, and they will be deposited to the credit of the American Red Cross. Persons sending checks are asked to make them payable to the American Red Cross.

Plans are under way to establish a booth in the post office or Bank of America, where contributions may be taken. Anyone desiring to aid in such project is asked to contact Mrs. Smith, phone 3561.

Ramon Road Closed for Paving Work

The normal flow of traffic between Sunrise Way and Indian avenue, via Ramon road, is now being detoured on Sunny Dunes road while road improvement project on Ramon is under way.

The improvement of Ramon was started Monday by J&S Paving company, and will continue for about 30 days, according to Public Works Director Frank Hammerschlag.

During that time, all through traffic will be prohibited from Ramon road.

The project includes replacing of the surfacing, changing of grades, widening of the existing roadway, and installation of curbs and gutters on an area of the south side of the job.

The project is being paid for by gas tax refunds to the city.

Councilman Jerry Nathanson suffered a fracture of the spine Monday afternoon in a one-car automobile accident in the 2100 block of North Palm Canyon.

Extent of his injuries was discovered Tuesday afternoon after X-rays had been taken of his back. He was taken to Desert hospital in the afternoon, where he is expected to remain for some weeks. The injury is described as painful and annoying, but not otherwise serious.

NATHANSON was traveling south on Palm Canyon drive when he applied his brakes to avoid striking a northbound vehicle being driven by Phillip Kornblatt of 444 North Palm Canyon drive, he told investigating officers.

He then lost control of his 1955 model Thunderbird, and the vehicle sideswiped three trees along the west side of the road before crossing the highway and ploughing through sand on the east side of the roadway. The car came to rest at the edge of the east roadway.

NO COLLISION was involved in the accident.

Investigating officers said that Kornblatt was in the process of making a U-turn.

Total distance traveled by Nathanson's car after he applied the brakes was listed at 519 feet.

One side and the rear of Nathanson's car suffered extensive damage.

No citations were issued to Nathanson, contrary to reports appearing in another newspaper, according to Sgt. John Herrera, who was in charge of investigation.

EDDIE POOLE IS FIRST TO BECOME CARRIER SALESMAN FOR DAILY SUN

Carrier Salesman No. 1

This is the honor that can be claimed by Eddie Poole, who is the first youth to sign up as a newspaper carrier salesman when The Desert Sun starts its daily operation October 4.

Eddie, 13, is the son of Mrs. Billie Hook, Mineral Trailer Park. He started being a newsboy for The Desert Sun about two months ago, selling papers on the streets after the Wednesday night publication.

Right now, he averages between 40 and 60 customers each Wednesday night, and has 21 regular customers where he leaves papers.

A logical question to Eddie as to why he had developed an interest in The Desert Sun carrier system was answered just logically.

"I heard a few boys talking about securing paper routes this Fall when The Desert Sun goes daily," Eddie said. "Mom and I expect to make this the best season ever financially so we can buy a car and start furnishing our own little house, and I wanted a regular, permanent income."

GETTING A CARRIER route with The Sun seemed like the best way for me to do my share," he continued.

Eddie is an honor student at St. Theresa Catholic school. Last year, in the eighth grade, he was the recipient of the Building Nearing All-Time Record with Total for Year to Date Over $6.6 Million

August construction in the City of Palm Springs brought the total for the year to within $22,000 of the all-time record of $6,680,330 set during 1946, Building Inspector Jack Sanders reported.

Building during August had a valuation of $730,687, compared to $370,512 during the same month in 1954.

Total to date this year is $6,658,167, which assures a new record for the 12-month period.

Another new record was set during August, with 23 swimming pools authorized for a valuation of $93,000. The old mark for a single month was 22 pools.

Leading the valuation during the month was seven permits for apartments, covering 37 units, with a valuation of $268,000.

Home building, which has consistently led the other groups, was second. Ten new dwellings were authorized with a valuation of $204,000.

Other permits authorized were:

Five dwelling additions and alterations, $7,187; one new commercial building, $22,000; four commercial additions and alterations, $10,900; three apartment additions and alterations, $12,000; five trailer additions, $11,100; one trailer park addition, $10,000; two hotels, 26 units, $76,000; three hotel additions and alterations, $12,500; one guest ranch alteration, $2,000; two demolitions, $2,000.

A total of 67 permits were issued during the month.

Many New Vehicle Laws Go Into Effect Wednesday

A record number of vehicle parking lights at any time code amendments will go into effect Wednesday the Automobile Club of Southern California announced today.

Discussing the 199 amendments with a large group of Southland municipal court judges, prosecuting attorneys and enforcement officers last night, Club legal representatives singled out the following new laws and changes as most significant to motorists:

1. Legalization of left turns against stop signals — after stopping — from a one-way street into a one-way street.

2. Making mandatory the registration of trailer coaches with the Department of Motor Vehicles even if they are not used for travel purposes.

3. Increasing from five to ten days the time a motorist has to appear for a traffic violation.

4. Prohibiting the use of parking lights at any time when a vehicle is underway, unless headlamps are also lighted.

5. Authorizing the Department of Public Works and local authorities to erect "Yield Right-of-Way" signs at unsigned intersections.

6. Requiring every dealer and lending agency to inform a transferee or borrower when the insurance obtained by the seller does not include liability coverage.

Another new law—not effective until July 1, 1956—provides for suspension of the registration and license plates of a vehicle involved in an accident unless the owner or driver deposits security or establishes exemption from security requirements. The most common form of exemption is liability insurance coverage.

Residents of the community of Cabazon, 17 miles northwest of Palm Springs, will go to the polls November 8 to decide whether to incorporate as a sixth class city.

Supervisors Monday fixed that date as the day for the election on the proposition which has aroused much controversy.

At the same election, Cabazon voters will also select a list of five councilmen, a city clerk and a city treasurer. The officials will be seated only if the incorporation proposal wins.

The vote of the board Monday on the election date was 3 to 2, the same division as the week before when supervisors decided that the community had the 500 votes necessary to form a city. That question had been before the board for six weeks until Chairman William Jones returned from his vacation to break the deadlock and make the election possible.

Polling place for the election will be the Cabazon school building.

The city, if it is formed, will take in about four square miles most of it adjacent to the Southern Pacific tracks.

Involved in the controversy over incorporation was the question of draw poker establishments and the building of a cement mill.

Budget Up But County Tax Rate Not to Increase

Riverside county's property tax rate will not go above the $1.75 figure of last year and may even be a penny or two less, despite adoption of a $20 million dollar budget by supervisors last week.

Auditor Ray Hicks said that a great increase in assessed valuations—the base for county taxes—will hold the rate down despite the increase in the budget which will be approximately $20,050,000, the highest in county history and the first budget over $20 million.

LAST YEAR'S budget called for appropriations of $18,150,000.

This year's total property tax levy is expected to be $6,150,000. Last year it was $5,631,059.

Besides the broader tax base, an increase in income outside of property taxes, is also expected to aid in keeping the tax rate down. These include federal and state grants for relief and for roads and fees collected by county departments. This branch of revenue is expected to exceed last year by $750,000.

SUPERVISORS ADOPTED the budget unanimously after splitting many times on minor portions.

Chief debates centered around the request of Sheriff Joe Rice for an increased staff and better salaries, which was rejected as was Auditor Hicks' request for $100,000 more for the general reserve fund.

Busy Weekend Expected Here

The year's third triple holiday will be observed this coming weekend and the Village is expected to be host to throngs from Friday night until Monday night.

Next Monday is Labor Day and many visitors are expected here over the weekend.

Policie Chief A. G. Kettmann is expecting heavily increased traffic and has made arrangements for complete coverage of city streets.

Bank of America and Citizens National bank will be closed Monday for the holiday and also on Friday, September 9, Admission day, a state holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Long went to Davenport, Iowa, on their vacation trip to visit his ailing mother, Mrs. J. O. Long.

They had been home but two days before Long received word that his mother had died.

He left again for the east immediately.

Bank of America and Citizens National bank will be closed Monday for the holiday and also on Friday, September 9, Admission day, a state holiday.

Three sessions conducted by the state personnel board in a survey of the city's rules and procedures for municipal employees will be held next Tuesday at the city hall.

Robert Montila of the state staff will head the meetings. He will outline the methods of the survey and its purposes. Questionnaires will be distributed.

All city department heads have been instructed to have their staff members attend one of the three sessions.

The board of education requested the aid of residents in the naming of the school. The name may be in honor of a person.

The school was authorized by voters in the recent $2,125,000 bond election.

18,871 Tourists Arrived in Southland Daily During July

During July, according to the All Year club, community tourist advertising organization for Southern California, 18,871 tourists from the other 47 states and from Canada, arrived in the southland each day.

The 18,871 a day added up to a July total of 585,001, which was 14.4 per cent more than a year ago and was the sharpest increase for any month this year so far. It was encouraging, the All-Year Club pointed out, because July is ordinarily the peak month of the summer tourist season.

If they spent money here at the same rate as they did last summer, the July visitors would have left $62,864,207 in southland trade channels during their visits. A survey of this summer's spendings has not yet been completed by the All-Year Club.

The July total of 585,001 visitors were all on pleasure trips, excluding business and convention traffic, and including all modes of transportation.

Last year nearly four million tourists arrived during the 12 months and spent over one-half billion dollars.

Ottson pulled out of a gas station into the path of Prosser's truck, according to Indio police who investigated.

No charges will be placed against Prosser, it was stated by Indio Police Chief Pat Cunningham. Prosser slammed on the brakes of his truck, and swerved the vehicle in an unsuccessful effort to avoid the collision.

Ottson died at 11 a.m., three hours after the mishap, in Cawista hospital in Indio.

County Car Pool to be Established

In a move designed to cut the cost of county transportation, supervisors have decided to establish a car pool in the county, they indicated.

The pool is expected to reduce the number of automobiles owned by the county.

At present, the several departments have their own cars which, when not in use, stand idle. Under the pool system, when not in use by one department, the car will be assigned to other departments.

Supervisors have been asked by department heads to buy $69,000 worth of automobiles for the current fiscal year. Under the pool arrangement, this will be lowered at least $9,000, it is believed.

Tickets are on sale at any downtown drug store or music store, or phone 7280. Tickets will also be available at box-office on performance nights. Curtain is at 845.

Shea first came to Palm

Springs during the war years and was stationed at Toney General Hospital to aid in troop movements.

After a turn in the army himself, he returned to the Village and was city ticket representative at the railroad's downtown offices. Later he was transferred to San Diego and then on to the company's headquarters in Los Angeles in charge of public relations.

A year ago he attended Harvard Graduate school of administration, graduating from the Advanced Business Program of the university.

Inspectors Exams Held on Schedule

Written tests for the position of junior building inspector were held as scheduled Monday morning despite the tragedy in the department resulting from the murder of Donald E. Seventeen applicants took the tests.

Authorize Signs to Swing Traffic to Resort Area

Contract has been let by county supervisors for six directional signs on much-traveled transcontinental highways to divert traffic to the desert resort areas. The signs were recommended by the county board of trade.

Two will be erected on U.S. Highway 80 directing west-bound traffic to Highway 111 which runs along the north shore of Salton Sea, through Coachella Valley communities, and thence through the Palm Springs area.

Four will be erected near Amboy on U.S. Highway 66, calling attention to both east and west bound traffic to the newly-surfaced Palm Springs cut-off from that community, through Twentynine Palms, the Morongo Valley and connections on U.S. 60-70-99 near Whitewater for Palm Springs and other adjacent communities.

The signs will cost $4256.

Sun Cameras Record Complete Story of Slaying, Inevitable Justice

HOUSE OF VIOLENCE, the scene of the brutal slaying of Don "Dutch" Graham. The city building inspector was found dead in the kitchen of his home, Friday afternoon trussed and dead in the kitchen of his home. (Desert Sun Photos by Fred C. Weigel and Don Klotzbuecher)

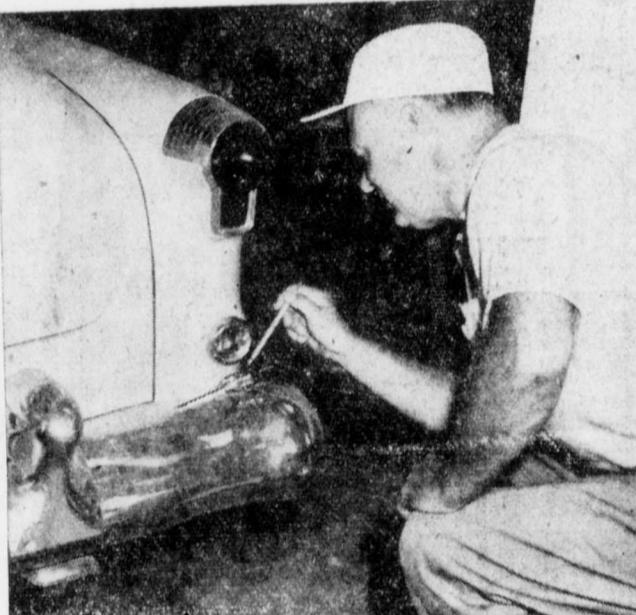

MYSTERIOUS CLUES found by police at the scene — a woman's shoe, a full can of beer, an open Bible to the 23rd Psalm, a coat hanger, and pulled out-drawer. Police were mystified in the early hours of the case by the strange clues that were spread about the living room of the small home.

STOPPED IN THEIR FLIGHT at Kingman, Arizona, Robert Kenneth Miers and Michael Elizabeth Miers are returned to Palm Springs as the alleged slayers of "Dutch" Graham. The couple raced from the scene of the crime to their home in Baldwin Park, picked up their four children and fled the state. Their capture and ultimate return was described by authorities as the "fastest police detection and successful manhunt in history." Sgt. Bob White, left, Georgia Kettmann, right, lead the couple to the local jail.

POLICE CHIEF AUGUST G. KETTMANN points out the gun — a .38 cal. Colt — discovered on the rear bumper of a car in the Graham garage. It was one more strange clue in the death of the prominent man.

THE MIERS BABYSITTER, Raymond Curtis Lee, Jr., was found in Los Angeles in possession of a ring, watch, clothes and vacuum cleaner belonging to Graham. He has been released from custody and returned home following the taking of a statement from him.

RE-ENACTING THE EVENTS of the fatal Friday morning, Bob Miers demonstrated on Sgt. Dale Thompson how he fought with Graham. Miers claim is that Graham struck the first blow. Sgt. Bob White, right, looks on.

Marines Tangle with Fireballs for Pennant Tonight

Twenty-nine Palms Marines and Desert Hot Springs will clash tonight for the championship of the 1953 Desert Softball league.

The game will be played at the Polo Grounds starting at 8:15.

The two teams wound up with identical standings in a torrid race during the regular schedule and tonight's game will be a "sudden death" play-off for the pennant. It is the first time in 10 years that the regular race has ended in a draw necessitating a play-off.

During the regular season the teams met three times, the Marines taking two of the games and the Desert Hot Springs Fireballs one.

The Marines won the first clash 2 to 0. In the second game, the Fireballs won in 14 innings, 3 to 2. In this clash, Bill Tichenor, DHS pitcher, set a league mark by fanning 30 men while Johnny Green of the Marines struck out 24.

The Marines took the third game, 2 to 1.

All of the games were exciting, close ones and Howard Haddock, city recreation director in charge of softball play, predicted that tonight's game would be the most exciting of the season.

I have found that the only sounding instructor it should make quite an impression on the pupil. "Remember, just triangulate your arms and you've got it." What the public likes to think is getting something new," summed up the commercial and psychological sides.

In order to have my findings studied their newness would have to be emphasized. Such a stand is all right, I guess, if it isn't carried too far. By too far I mean deliberately giving the impression that a dog is a cat. Don't laugh, it's done continually in golf.

Take the latest term used with instructions, namely, "Triangulation." In Webster's it is defined as: 1—to divide into triangles, to make triangular, to measure by trigonometry. In golf it is intended to define a desirable position with the arms, forming a triangle.

Those using this term seem to forget that there are many different ways of forming a triangle. They haven't learned that very few golfers can apply plane geometry to their positions and movements.

Triangulation is a mighty pig and very important sounding word, spoken by any positive sounding instructor it should make quite an impression on the pupil. "Remember, just triangulate your arms and you've got it." What the public likes to think is getting something new," summed up the commercial and psychological sides.

Palm House Rally Evens Series with Hot Springs

Desert Hot Springs Fireballs two innings to save the game. Monday night, the two teams staged another hot one. The Fireballs apparently had it sewed up going into the seventh and last inning leading 3 to 0. In the top of the seventh Paul Nielsen, Jack Buchanan and Ted McKinney all hit safely and when the last out was made, the score was 3-all.

The Fireballs took the first game last Thursday night 7 to 6. But the Palm House came back in the second game Monday night to even it up with a 4 to 3 victory in extra innings.

OTH GAMES were thrillers. In the first meeting, Desert Hot Springs had a 7-0 lead going into the third round. Then the Palm House started pegging away and in the fifth were only one behind, 7-6. Bill Tichenor then bore down and blanked Palm House in the last

IN THE TOP of the extra eighth inning Monda Stafford tripled and romped home when the ball was fumbled in the outfield. That broke up the game, the Palm House winning and leveling the series.

THREE YOUNG MEN miraculously escaped serious injury and possibly death Saturday afternoon when their car left the roadway on Tipton road, near the Palm Springs depot, flipped over and came to rest right side up. Missing a corner to turn to Palm Springs, the vehicle went over a rise in the roadway and traveled 65 feet in the air before landing, then bounced another 45 feet before the wheels again touched the ground and the car overturned, according to California Highway Patrol officers. The car, the living room and after a few steps glanced in the kitchen.

BOTH WERE STUNNED by what they saw.

A body, lying in a pool of dried blood, arms bound by a sheet, a towel used for further tying, with water-soaked knots to prevent possible movement, blood spattered over the floor, stove, wall, chairs and cupboards.

The body was turned over. The build was that of Dutch Graham, but the battered face was unrecognizable. Features were distorted, inhuman.

Headquarters was notified, and Police Chief August G. Kettmann, Sergeant Bob White, and Laboratory Technician Dick Addison were at the scene within a matter of minutes.

INVESTIGATORS FOUND the rest of the house undisturbed except for several items of mystery. One drawer pulled out of the secretary-desk and overturned on the floor, a woman's shoe aside of the easy chair in the living room, an open can of beer placed aside of a Bible turned to the 23rd Psalm, a glass filled with whiskey and mix on the kitchen table, a coat hanger on the living room floor.

The other break came soon afterward, to be followed by others within minutes. Within minutes, as is customary in a Village, the report of the murderer quickly circulated throughout the town.

BANNING POLICE, investigating a report of an abandoned car, found that it belonged to Graham. By 4:10 p.m., the information was transmitted here, along with a report that a driver's license was found on the front floor of the car in the name of Michael Miers.

A call came from a bartender at a local night club who told of Graham being there the evening before with a couple who claimed to be "brother and sister." And, it was added, the "sister" had given her name and address to a musician in the band.

QUICK CHECKING by Officer

Aitken brought the name of Michael Elizabeth Miers again to the police, and the man-hunt for murder was transferred to Los Angeles.

Another bartender reported that they had arrived at another night club about 11 p.m. and had left at 1:15 a.m. Friday. It was assumed then that Graham had invited them to his home for a "nightcap." Officers developed the motive of robbery as Graham was known to carry large sums of money at all times.

Time of the couple's departure from Palm Springs was established by Sheldon Segal, a bus boy with the night club, who told of the Miers' returning at 2:45 a.m., in a 1955 Buick (Graham's car) to pick up their car. The keys were not in the ignition and they wanted someone to tell them where they were.

SEGAL VOLUNTEERED to take them to where the parking lot attendant resides in Outpost Estates, but halfway there the man (Miers) became nervous and turned the car around and sped back to town, often traveling at 80 to 85 miles per hour. Upon arrival at the night club parking lot, another attendant was at the scene and showed the Miers where the keys were located above the visor.

Segal said that he saw a large amount of clothing in the rear seat of the car.

When they left Miers was driving his car and Mrs. Miers was driving Graham's, which she told Segal was her own. Their fate now rests in the hands of the Grand Jury and Superior Court.

LOS ANGELES POLICE arrived too late at the Baldwin Park residence of the Miers for they had already left their home, picking up their four children, and gone on to an El Monte motel for the night.

Officer Nick Maff Friday evening, together with Lyn Waite of the city building department, had the unpleasant task of going to Los Angeles airport to meet Mrs. Marie Everett, Graham's fiancee to whom he was to be married this week. Mrs. Everett was returning from visiting a son in Frankfort, Germany.

MIERS REPORTED to work at a bakery the next morning, saw the headlines of the mur-

Sanders Named as Head of City Building Dep't

Reluctantly because of the circumstances but also because the business of the city must go on, City Manager Robert W. Peterson Saturday announced the appointment of John Sanders as chief building inspector for Palm Springs.

Sanders, who has been senior inspector, succeeds the late Donald E. Graham who was brutally slain early Friday morning.

The appointment is effective today.

Coming right on the heels of the crime, Peterson said, the appointment was made with reluctance by himself and accepted in the same way by Sanders.

"Naturally, I'm pleased with the promotion—but I don't like the circumstances," Sanders said.

Sanders, 49, has been senior inspector under Graham for three years. He is married, has two children and lives at 1179 North Calle Marcus.

He went to work for the city as part time policeman in February, 1952, and a month later joined the building department.

friendly, peaceful man, cooperative with everyone in business and friendship.

He restoreth my soul; he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.

Of all the people contacted concerning Graham, friends and business acquaintances, no one said an evil word about him.

Yec. though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Meanwhile, local police had taken into custody Raymond Curtis Lee, Jr., on an open felony charge. He had been baby sitter for the Miers' while they were in Palm Springs, and for his services and also to keep definitely was given Graham's diamond ring (valued at $750), wristwatch, clothing and a vacuum cleaner, all taken from Graham's house.

Lee was released Tuesday afternoon after questioning.

THE COUPLE WAS returned here from Kingman Monday afternoon and both were questioned for several hours by local police and the district attorney's office. Tuesday they were taken separately to the scene of the crime, where each reenacted the fatal death scene.

Late in the afternoon the couple was arraigned before Judge Eugene Therneau, each entering a plea of not guilty to first degree murder. The judge set Tuesday at 10 a.m. as the time for a preliminary hearing if the Grand Jury returns an indictment as sought by District Attorney W. O. Mackey today, the preliminary hearing will be abandoned and appointed public defender Maurice Sherrill to represent the couple, who claimed they had no funds to hire an attorney.

Weigel joined Klotzbuecher and sped to the scene of the crime.

ENTERING THE small home which sat far back on the lot, fronted with fruit trees and rose bushes, the two reporters, neither new to scenes of violent death, recoiled at the sight of the bound and beaten body of Donald Graham—a man whom each had known well. Both reporters made the same observation—without having been told that it was the body of Graham, neither of them could have identified him.

Weigel and Klotzbuecher began collecting information about the death of the well-known city official. Scores of pictures were taken at the scene, and the news team watched as Dick Addison, Palm Springs police laboratory technician, gathered clues and dusted for fingerprints. Police Chief August Kettmann and Sergeant Bob White were tabulating physical evidence and taking measurements of the rooms.

Time was slipping by, it was after 5 p.m. The newsmen left clothing in the car, and it was being sorted and listed. Casts were taken of tire marks near the spot where police found the abandoned car.

New facts were being learned hourly, and police throughout the entire state were tightening the net around the fleeing couple.

Late Saturday night the couple was captured in Kingman, Arizona, and Monday afternoon were returned to Palm Springs.

FLASHBULBS FLARED as Desert Sun cameras recorded the booking of the young couple in the Village jail, and reporters and cameramen filled the small hallway and booking room.

The following morning (Tuesday) Weigel and Klotzbuecher went to the Graham home and watched Robert Miers re-enact the events of the murder of Graham. Later in the day, Weigel returned to the house and Michael Elizabeth Miers explained with gestures what had happened.

Day by day, hour by hour, the newsmen watched as the evidence was pieced together by police, and by the end of the first week following the crime, the newsmen knew that the story was not completed, their vigil would not slacken until the shock of the horrible crime was balanced by the scales of justice!

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

My, but you're a feckless twerp.
Don't even know which crickets chirp.

That, while not the exact report on the words used, is the theme of a rather unkind communication received this week. It had to do with my statement last week about those nosy little brown pests who have been trying to crash local night spots and homes since the rain of a week ago. I wrote "he or she," maintaining that there must be both kinds. Seems that there are but that I perpetrated a biological bloop in commenting on the cacophony they produce.

THE COMMUNICATION got under way thus: "Phat, you handsome (right there is where my correspondent runs into a wall of contrary opinion) jerk. You wrote last week that there just had to be two kinds of crickets, mister and missus. probably you are right there, BUT you also wrote that "he, or she, make that chirping sound by rubbing their hind legs together." That's where you displayed your ignorance. The female cricket does NOT chirp. Besides, don't you think it is rather indecent to speak of a female rubbing her hind legs together?" In the case of this orthopterous insect, it is entirely different from the human species. Among crickets, the male makes the noise, the female is silent. And, a bit of a further instruction in wild life. My dear Phat, the crickets do not make that chirping noise by rubbing their hind legs together. The chirping sound is produced by the friction of their wing cases against each other." All right, so much for a lesson in entomology. But I wouldn't like 'em even if they played Dixieland with their front paws.

BESIDES, I have an excellent excuse if last week's (and this week's too) efforts were somewhat disjointed. We are working under difficulties in The Sun office. Outside of the usual Summer complement of news-side, ad-side, front office and back office aides, we have had plasterers, carpenters, structural engineers, electricians, concrete workers and a sundry corps of assistants and helpers. It was (is) rather disconcerting to be working away at your task and hear a warning shout: "Gangway!" every minute or so. And jump out of the way of a full wheelbarrow load of concrete coming in. And land right in an empty wheelbarrow going out. Besides, the artisans who were fashioning a new Sun composing room, had to move things out of their way. So when our workers went to where something was supposed to be, it wasn't. Type, needed for immediate usage, was nesting in the men's room. Other articles were out on the curb on Indian avenue. It wasn't easy.

ON TOP of all that, on Friday when one of the biggest stories of the year broke, one press, the old smaller one, was on skids just going out of the back door to its new owners. The new press coming in was a jumble of cogs and motors and cylinders and steel framework, surrounded by cement layers, electricians and so on. It was somewhat of a frantic situation, to put it mildly. Worst of all was that just when an important long distance call came in or was being sent out, the jackhammers, drills, hammers and other peace-disturbing instruments would start in full chorus. The racket came right through closed doors and I'm afraid the boys learned some new words. And invented others when even the new expressions did not seem adequate.

THE BANKERS are going to have themselves a time next week. "Monday is Labor Day, banks closed. Friday is Administer day, banks closed. Saturday is the regular day off. Banks closed. So, from tomorrow night until a week from Monday morning, September 12, nine days in all, they will have to work but three days. What a life! The Labor Day holiday reminds me of something I read the other day. A youngster who starts school next week was heard to complain bitterly. "Look, they make a holiday to celebrate the opening of school," he cried. . . . And I liked the retort of a woman to a man who moaned: "Women aren't what they used to be." In reply to his lament, she said: "Of course not. They used to be girls."

And if you stay off the highways this three-day holiday weekend as I hope to do—see you next Tuesday.

CRAZY MIXED-UP CANARY SWALLOWING CAT

There are over 20 million cats in the U. S. not counting the hep (or 'hip' as the really hep people say) variety. Also not counting the unfortunate one pictured above. Cats are able to look a man straight in the eye for hours without flinching which has given rise to the superstition that cats can read human minds. Ridiculous! Banana Oil! If cats were mind readers they wouldn't yowl on my back fence and sneak into garbage cans in the middle of the night. They could make lots of money playing the horses' or in Show Business and could have their own private fences and garbage cans and eat at regular hours. This proves that cats aren't as smart as people think they are. For that matter, neither are people.

The evasion of duty will take a tolerant attitude toward these regulative ordinances. Carrying them to court to determine their constitutionality is, of course, one's right, but such action is really doing a disservice to the community. What if one of these measures does violate a constitutional right? It is a rather trivial one. Most of the people concerned are willing to go along on the theory that it is good for all. They should.

The growth and popularity of Palm Springs has not been entirely because of our wonderful climate, excellent accommodations, good food, and recreational facilities. Its PLEASING APPEARANCE has had much to do with making Palm Springs one of the most desirable and attractive resorts in the nation. This fact is indisputable. Recognition of it by all our business interests will help preserve the charm of the Village and the prosperity of all its businessmen.

Compliance should be for the most part on a voluntary basis. One reminder that some concern is in violation of an ordinance should and usually does suffice. This sort of cooperation and vision on the part of all who seek to make a living here, will help to continue the reputation that

TRY AND STOP ME

By Bennett Cerf

A YOUNG BROKER met a seductive blonde in Atlantic City, fell for her and, worst of all, wrote her a passel of pulsating letters. Armed with these she sued him for breach of promise and — $300,000. "It's an outrage!" blustered the broker. "She can't get away with it!"

"I'm afraid she can," corrected his lawyer. "I've seen some of those letters, and boy, her epistles are loaded!"

Starlet Elaine Stewart is a pushover for fortune tellers. Every town she hits, she heads for tea-leaf queens, card readers, and phrenologists. "They're so unanimous," she reports happily. "Every one says I'm going to be a top star. If just one disagrees, I'll drop the pack of them."

George Burns, of Burns and Allen, playing golf on a strange course, studied the lie of his ball and asked the caddie, "What club would you use here?" "A number eight," said the caddie without hesitation. So Burns used it, hit a perfect shot — and found himself still forty yards short of the pin. "That's a full spoon shot," he announced to the caddie angrily. "Why did you tell me you'd use a number eight?" "Because," explained the caddie, "that's the only club I've got."

Fellow from Houston was cocktail atop the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco. "How do you like that sunset over Golden Gate?" enthused his host. The Texan was polite. "It's really not bad," he conceded, "for a small town."

EDDIE POOLE, first youth to sign as a carrier boy for The Desert Sun when it starts its daily operation October 4, and his mother, Mrs. Billie Hook, discuss his opportunity to have a regular monthly income prior to both signing the carrier boy agreement. Additional youths are needed for the carrier boy operation, with full information at The Desert Sun.

PROSPERITY BY LAW

Refusal of a few to comply with city ordinances regulating business operations such as limitation of signs and posting of rates should focus attention of all businessmen in the community on the reasons behind these somewhat arbitrary measures. The reason why the city council has been induced to adopt such ordinances is not to limit or hamper business establishments or hotels as some people may think. It is to preserve the attractiveness and charm of Palm Springs on which the entire community and prosperity of all of us depends.

After visiting dozens of resorts this Summer I am more convinced than ever that this is the basic reason why Palm Springs has a distinct advantage over almost all of them. It is the thing which makes visitors want to come back again and again, and the reason why many decide to buy homes here. On engaging in business here, with its many inevitable problems, it is hard at times to see the overall picture and realize how important these seemly unreasonable ordinances really are. Sometimes it almost seems like adding insult to injury — businessmen already have enough detail to look after without having to worry about complying with a lot of restrictive ordinances.

So it does take a broad view to see the necessity and wisdom of these regulations which are designed to help everyone although they may work some hardship on a few. The best plan, of course, would be to have these regulations by general consent. Voluntary. But we all know that such an arrangement is impractical since there are always some dissenters. Accomplishing the desirable control by a city ordinance is really the only successful way. If there were considerable objections to any ordinance the city council would not adopt it, so there is always this protection against unreasonable restrictions.

Objection to some of these ordinances affecting business operations — particularly on the part of newcomers in our business life — is quite understandable. I recall how arbitrary and unreasonable I thought some of these measures were even ten years ago when I came to Palm Springs. It seemed to me then that an effort was being made to keep new businesses out of the community and drive out some others already established here. But time and travel have proven to me the wisdom of keeping a rather tight control on business development and operations here. No one can deny the foolhardiness of letting a town "just grow up" — particularly one that is entirely dependent upon making a good impression on visitors. I have seen time and again the sad results of such lack of control. I don't like to point to any of them — if you have visited some resorts this Summer, you likely know just what I mean.

So we hope that our merchants and hotel owners will take a tolerant attitude toward these regulative ordinances. Carrying them to court to determine their constitutionality is, of course, one's right, but such action is really doing a disservice to the community. What if one of these measures does violate a constitutional right? It is a rather trivial one. Most of the people concerned are willing to go along on the theory that it is good for all. Churches Plan Union Services Here Saturday

Members of the Twenty-Nine Palms Seventh-Day Adventist church will join with members of the Palm Springs church in union services here Saturday. Elder D. E. Dirksen, home missionary secretary of the Southeastern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists will be the guest speaker at the 11 a.m. service. There will also be a baptismal service. Members of both churches will join in a pot-luck dinner following the meeting.

During the Sabbath school period, beginning at 9:30 a.m., members of both groups and visitors will participate in the study of the subject of "Justification." Mrs. John Cook, returning after being away for the summer months, will be the superintendent.

Last Saturday, parents and friends witnessed the graduation exercises of the first Vacation Bible School to be conducted by the Palm Springs church. The school was for a period of two weeks, closing August 26. Three youngsters received a special award for perfect attendance. They were: Bonnie Dobbs, Janey Johnson and Rudy Salazar. Twelve received their workbooks that they had used during the school.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 will be the last in a series of prayer meeting studies surveying the Old Testament. Pastor Kenneth Smith will be speaking on the period of the Kings of Israel, Saul, David and Solomon.

Increase Voted for Building Staff

Following the Labor Day three-day holiday patrol of the city's streets because of the anticipated heavy traffic, Police Sgt. Robert Young will go to Sacramento to attend a three-week course in traffic law enforcement at the California Highway Patrol academy.

Sgt. Young is in charge of the traffic division of the local police department.

Jewish Community Center to Observe High Holy Days

Dr. George Gillman, chairman of the Ritual committee of Temple Isaiah, has announced the completion of plans for the celebration of Rosh Hashonah (Day of Atonement) at the Jewish Community Center at 332 West Alejo.

Services will be conducted by the spiritual leader of the Jewish community, Rabbi Leon W. Rosenberg. The musical portion of the liturgy will be chanted by Cantor Don Decker, who so ably served the Temple as Cantor during the High Holy Days last year. A ten-voice choir under the direction of Harry Tomlinson, choirmaster of the Temple, will assist with the chanting of the liturgy. Christine Tomlinson will serve as organist.

The first service for the High Holy Days will take place on Friday, September 16 at 8:15 p.m. On Saturday, September 17 and Sunday, September 18 services for Rosh Hashonah will be conducted at 10 a.m. Special Children's services for the New Year will be conducted on Saturday at 3 p.m. in the Temple Sanctuary.

Zachary Pitts, president of the Temple, urged that residents and visitors who plan to attend these services, communicate with the Temple office immediately in order to be assured of seating for the special festival worship.

The Temple office is open daily from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. to arrange for seating at these services. New memberships in the Community Center are being accepted and registration for the various departments of the religious school is now taking place.

Young People's groups will meet at 6 p.m. Sunday.

La Quinta Asks Ban on Dumps

Establishments of dumps for other counties in Riverside county should be vigorously opposed, supervisors were told last week by the La Quinta Chamber of Commerce.

The protest, first to be filed, was aimed at the announcement that Los Angeles county was seeking to create a dumping ground in an isolated section of the county desert. La Quinta's protest was referred by supervisors to the county planning commission where any application for a dump site will go first.

County Supervisor Homer Varner of this district, recently discussed the Los Angeles county proposal at a meeting in Coachella Valley and urged strong opposition.

Vernon Baumgardner, Scoutmaster for Kiwanis club Troop 75, Boy Scouts of America, said Monday that meetings of the group will be resumed Tuesday, September 6, at Frances S. Stevens School cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

Baumgardner said that an Explorer Post for Scouts 14 and over, will be added to the Troop this year. It will be under direction of Gordon Soule, Explorer advisor, whose son, Gary, was at the Philmont Scout ranch in New Mexico this summer.

during each preceding term. Students are picked up at their homes by school buses, and returned in the afternoon. A noon lunch is served at the school, plus "refresher" snacks in the morning and afternoon.

BESIDES THE concentrated educational program, which features individual attention to each student, there also is an excellent recreational program which includes swimming, tennis, basketball and volleyball.

The applications denied, according to Russell S. Moore, director, were:

The Barn restaurant, William L. and June V. Weintraub, Ramon road near Indian avenue; Yolo restaurant, Leo G. and Yolanda Massare, Desert Hot Springs.

Howard E. and Marguerite L. Carr, restaurant, Desert Hot Springs.

The fourth license application filed from Riverside county which was turned down was that of the Desert Vendome, on Highway 111, three miles west of Indio.

Moore said public necessity and convenience did not warrant issuance of the permits.

With Red Horns, Yet?

Oversize Goat Jolts Kenyon as it Says 'Good Morning'

Ed (Red) Kenyon received a considerable shock the other morning when he swung into his warehouse ready for a day of business.

There, gazing unconcernedly at him, was what he described as the "biggest (deleted adjectives) billy-goat" he had ever seen.

"And it had red horns, too," he added. "It looked at least nine feet tall."

The explanation was soon forthcoming. Seems that four of Kenyon's employees were returning to Palm Springs from Twenty-nine Palms when they spotted the goat by the roadside.

At first they thought it was dead. But it showed signs of life and they decided that all goats smell like that.

So they loaded it into the cab of the truck, two of the men moving out into the bed of the vehicle to make room, and took it to the warehouse.

The quartet maneuvering

Waltah and Gretchen Clarke Leave on Caribbean Cruise

Waltah and Gretchen Clarke and New Orleans and expect left yesterday via Pan-American Airlines for Mexico City and then a trip through the West Indies, planning to return to Palm Springs toward the end of the month.

Both have been in Mexico City before but this will be the first time there together. (Mrs. Clarke was a stewardess of American Air Lines Mexico City flights).

In Mexico City, said Clarke, they plan to skip the regular tourist sights but will visit the clubs and night spots to hear the latest in Mexican music.

After a few days in Mexico City they will plane to Havana and Veradero Beach for a day or two's visit and then go to Kingston and Montego Bay in Jamaica.

Then comes the main objective of the trip, a visit to Port au Prince in Haiti. There they plan to find a guide to take them to the Voodoo ceremonies they've heard so much about in the hills. Clarke says he's acquainted with Hawaiian drums but wants to hear the Voodoo bongos.

After three or four days in Haiti they will go to Ciudad Trujillo in the Dominican Republic and then to Puerto Rico. The last stop will be in Trinidad to hear Calypso music.

They will return via Miami

A harrowing experience, indeed. For nothing is more essential to the well-being of an explorer—or anyone else—than the finest of gin-and-tonics. Obviously, such a drink demands Canada Dry Quinine Water. Whether you encounter it in darkest Africa or on the brightest boulevards, there's no mistaking its glacier-blue color...its inimitable lightness and dryness...its sparkling, bitter-sweet taste. Never run the risk of running out of Canada Dry Quinine Water. Keep plenty on hand and be sure of superb gin-and-tonics. P.S. True, you can pay more for a quinine water...but it's like throwing your money away.

PALM DESERT

By GRETCHEN CHEESEMAN

Mrs. Refa Deaton is in northern California—Santa Rosa and Chico to be exact—She expects to spend one week hunting and fishing. She is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pohl in Chico. The Pohls spend a week or so in the desert every winter.

Jim and Marilyn Harstad have returned from the east. They own and manage the Adobe. They are "doing-over" this attractive hostelry, ready for a big winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fithian spent the weekend in their Sun Lodge—they are desert enthusiasts and they say it's never too hot for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Markley left for Redlands Friday to hear the Bowl performance of "Madame Butterfly" — and thence for a few days at Mill Creek.

Patrick Ritchie, new owner of "The Patch", formerly Samareau, is back from Canada to supervise the remodeling and re-decorating of this new motel.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beck, Palm Desert residents for many years have leased their home and are going to "see the world." After visiting Beck's family in Nebraska, they will go on to Iowa to help celebrate the 50th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Beck's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Allen have announced the wedding of their daughter, Priscilla Ainsworth Orr to David Dial, Cadet U.S.N.R. on Sunday July 3rd, in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. This attractive couple are now living in Virginia, but expect to be back in Los Angeles and Palm Desert very soon.

There will be the usual holiday festivities at Shadow Mountain club during Labor Day, three day vacation—the club being closed for the remaining days of September.

Carlos C. Close,
Village Winter
Resident, Dies

Last rites were said Friday at Forest Lawn cemetery, Glendale, for Carlos C. Close, for many years a Palm Springs winter resident, who succumbed last week at Redlands Community hospital at the age of 63.

Mr. Close was a graduate of Stanford Law school in 1914, a Phi Kappa Psi and a Phi Beta Kappa. He was associated with Dillon-Reed and company, investment bankers, in New York for years before moving to Portland, Oregon, where he was president of the First National bank until his retirement in 1952. He has made his home here since.

He is survived by his widow, Ruth, who lives at the family home here, 1288 San Jacinto way, and by two aunts, Mrs. Effie Argo of Long Beach and Mrs. Carrie Oren of Stockton.
